UA North Valley, our new extension campus located in north Phoenix, will be offering summer school classes that can fulfill credits for your degree. Courses will be taught by UA faculty on the campus of Paradise Valley Community College.

REGISTRATION BEGINS APRIL 16

SUMMER SESSION 1

HUMS 378 Playing Doctor: Images of Medicine and Health in Film

Study of how the different aspects of health, illness, patients, and medical practitioners have been portrayed in film. How have some aspects of the medical profession or certain illnesses been portrayed and why? How has film been used as a tool of rhetoric and how has film influenced our understandings of medicine and even our own bodies?

ENGL 443 Mexican-American Literature in English

Study of the literature, in English or English translation, by Mexican-American authors, or important to the development of Mexican-American literature.

GEOG 368 The Green Economy

What is it and how does it function? What does it mean for our future? What are the implications for cities, community, and globalization? What kind of policies lay the foundation for green economic development, and what challenges and opportunities lie within? And what does ‘green’ mean anyway?
